The beautiful government buildings in our nation's capital inspire me to patriotism and a renewed love for this land of freedom. Every citizen should make this pilgrimage to view the buildings, monuments and other lovely sights in Washington.

My wife and I were there recently at a time when a few inches of new white snow enhanced this beauty. While I was there I talked at length with my many friends in both the Senate and the House of Representatives. I told them about the A.N.A. and the things that we want, things that all numismatists want. I worked on the National Coin Week joint resolutions (H.J. Res. 175 and S.J. Res. 28). I told them the A.N.A. wanted the restoration of mint marks (S. 1008 and H.R. 4449), and the manufacture of proof sets. No legislation is necessary to make proofs, only the allocation of the special equipment, the time and the materials. The chairman of our Washington Educational Committee, S. W. Freeman, is planning a trip to Washington next month to continue this important work.

The 2-day meeting of the board of governors in Colorado Springs was a busy one. The first night we worked until 10 p.m., the second until 11 p.m. 67 items were studied, discussed and voted on. Many forward steps were taken. New types of services to our members, new ideas, new plans were instituted. The thoughts expressed in my February column were carried out. Our public relations office, now incorporated in the editorial department, is making these a matter of public record.

All the mail votes previously passed were confirmed. The board voted to accept a dedication medal proposed by Medallion Art Co., with 250 to be struck in silver and a larger number in bronze. We voted to hold the dedication of our new home on Saturday, June 10, at 2 p.m. Great plans are being made for this occasion.

William C. Henderson, president of Pikes Peak National Bank, was appointed our new treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Eldridge Jones whose resignation was accepted with sincere thanks for a job well done.

A motion passed unanimously that a sincere vote of thanks be given to Glenn Smedley for his excellent job as editor of The Numismatist. He was the answer to a prayer when we needed him and he has served the A.N.A. excellently in several capacities, as well as editor.

The board went on record officially as favoring the restoration of mint marks on U. S. coins. The sale of Congressional medals is continuing and another one thousand have been ordered. Eight new life members were accepted. Several motions were passed in reference to the fact that money should be made available from the Robbery Reward Fund for 5 different purposes which cannot be revealed at this time.

One of the programs we voted to begin at this meeting is an educational TV venture. It will consist of 32 separate 30-min. programs on different phases of numismatics to be offered to educational TV stations. John Dunn, John Pittman, myself and others have been working on this idea for a long time. Actual shooting should start in the near future. This will be a great boon for the hobby as well as for the A.N.A. I am proud to have had a part in the initiation of this program.

The executive director was instructed to begin a translation service for our members on a cost basis. Countless other things were also accomplished and you will read of them in news articles soon.

COINAGE

BY W. B. YEATS

In 1926, the government of the Irish Free State set up a committee to advise on the designing of an Irish Coinage. The committee consisted of six members. Its chairman was the poet W. B. Yeats, who at that time was a member of the Free State Senate. Yeats had a considerable influence on the committee's deliberations. He was interested in old Greek coinage and, developing a suggestion put forward by the painter, Sir William Orpen, proposed to the committee that the designs should typify the natural products of the country. These were ultimately limited to animals. The new coinage was issued for general circulation on December 12, 1928.

As the most famous and beautiful coins are the coins for the Greek colonies, especially of those in Sicily, we decided to send photographs of some of these, and one coin of Carthage, to our selected artists and to ask them, as far as possible to take them as a model. But the Greek coins had two advantages that ours could not have; one side need not balance the other and either could be stamped in high relief, whereas ours must pitch and spin to please the gambler and pack into rolls to please the banker.

We asked advice as to symbols and were recommended by the public: round towers; wolf-hounds; shamrocks, single or in wreaths; and the Treaty Stone of Limerick; and advised by the Society of Antiquaries to avoid patriotic emblems altogether, for even the shamrock emblem was not a hundred years old. We would have avoided them in any case, for we had to choose such forms as permit an artist to display all his capacity for design and expression, and as Ireland is the first modern state to design an entire coinage, not one coin now and another years later, as old dies wear out or the public changes its taste, it seemed best to give the coins some relation to one another. The most beautiful Greek coins are those that represent some god or goddess, as a boy or girl, or those that represent animals, or some simple object like a wheat-ear. Those beautiful forms, when they are re-named Hibernia or Liberty, would grow empty and academic, and the wheat-ear had been adopted by several modern nations. If we decided upon birds and beasts, the artist, the experience of centuries has shown, might achieve a masterpiece, and might, or so it seemed to us, please those that would look longer at each coin than anybody else, artists and children. Besides, what better symbols could we find for this horse-riding, salmon-fishing, cattle-raising country?

We might have chosen figures from the history of Ireland, saints or national leaders, but a decision of the Executive Council excluded modern men and no portraits have come down to us of St. Brigid or King Brian. The artist, to escape academical convention, would have invented a characteristic but unrecognizable head. I have before me a Swedish silver coin and a Swedish bronze medal, both masterly, that display the head of their medieval king, Gustavus Vasa. But those marked features were as familiar to the people as the incidents of his life, the theme of two famous plays. But even had we such a figure a modern artist might prefer not to suggest some existing knowledge, but to create new beauty by an arrangement of lines.

But how should the Government choose its artists? What advice should we give? It should reject a competition open to everybody. No good artist would spend day after day designing, and perhaps get nothing by it. There should be but a few competitors, and whether a man's work were chosen or not he should be paid something, and he should know that he might have some guarantee of our intelligence against whom he competed. We thought seven would be enough, and that of these three should be Irish. We had hoped to persuade Charles Shannon, a master of design, whose impressive caps and robes the Benchers of the King's Inn had rejected in favor of wig and gown, to make one of these, but he refused, and that left us two Dublin sculptors of repute, Albert Power and Oliver Sheppard, and Jerome Connor arrived lately from New York. Before choosing the other four we collected examples of modern coinage with the help of various embassies or of our friends. When we found anything to admire—the Italian coin with the wheat-ear or that with the Fascist emblem; the silver Swedish coin with the head of Gustavus Vasa; the American bison coin—we found out the artist's name and asked for other specimens of his work, if we did not know it already. We also examined the work of various medallists, and, much as we admired the silver Gustavus Vasa, we preferred a bronze Gustavus Vasa by the great Swedish sculptor, Carl Milles. Carl Milles and Ivan Mestrovic, sculptor and medallist, have expressed in their work a violent rhythmical energy unknown to past ages, and seem to many the foremost sculptors of our day. We wrote to both these and to James E. Fraser, designer of the bison and some beautiful architectural sculpture, and to Publio Morbiducci, designer of the coin with the Fascist emblem, but Fraser refused, and Mestrovic did not reply until it was too late.* We substituted for Fraser the American sculptor, Maniship, the creator of a Diana and her dogs, stylized and noble. But as yet we had no Englishman, and could think of no one among the well-known names that we admired both as sculptor and medallist. After some hesitation, for Charles Ricketts had recommended S. W. Carline, designer of a powerful Zeebrugge medal, and of a charming medal struck to the honor of Flinders Petrie, we selected on the recommendation of the secretary of the British School at Rome, Percy Metcalfe, a young sculptor as yet but little known.

Because when an artist takes up a task for the first time he must sometimes experiment before he has mastered the new technique, we advised that the artist himself should make every alteration necessary, and that, if he had to go to London or elsewhere for the purpose, his expenses should be paid. An Irish artist had made an excellent design for the seal of the Dublin

*We had written to a wrong address and our letter took some time reaching him. He made one magnificent design and, on discovering that the date had passed, gave it to the Irish Free State with great generosity. — W.B.Y.

National Gallery, and that design, founded upon the seal of an Irish abbey, had been altered by the Mint, round academic contours substituted for the planes and straight lines of a medieval design. One remembers the rage of Blake when his designs came smooth and lifeless from the hands of an engraver whose work had been substituted for his. The Deputy Master of the Mint has commended and recommended to other nations a precaution which protects the artist, set to a new task and not as yet a craftsman, from the craftsman who can never be an artist.

We refused to see the designs until we saw them all together. The name of each artist, if the model had been signed, was covered with stamp paper. The models were laid upon tables, with the exception of one set, fastened to a board over the mantelpiece. We had expected to recognize the work of the different artist by its style, but we recognized only the powerful handling of Milles on the board over the mantelpiece. One set of designs seemed far to exceed the others as decorations filling each its circular space, and this set, the work of Percy Metcalfe, had so marked a style, and was so excellent throughout, that it seemed undesirable to mix its designs with those of any other artist. Though we voted coin by coin, I think we were all convinced of this. I was distressed by my conviction. I had been certain that we could mix the work of three or four different artists, and that this would make our coinage more interesting, and had written to Milles, or to some friend of his, that it was unthinkable that we should not take at least one coin from so great an artist. Nobody could lay aside without a pang so much fine work, and our government, had it invited designs, without competition, from either Morbiducci or Manship, would have been lucky to get such work as theirs. Manship's Ram and Morbiducci's Bull are magnificent;

Manship's an entirely new creation, Morbiducci's a re-creation of the Bull on the Greek coin we had sent him as an example. That I may understand the energy and imagination of the designs of Milles I tell myself that they have been dug out of Sicilian earth, that they passed to and fro in the Mediterranean traffic two thousand years and more ago, and thereupon I discover that his strange bull, his two horses, that angry woodcock, have a supernatural energy. But all are cut in high relief, all suggest more primitive dies than we use today, and turned into a coin would neither pitch or pack.

As certain of the beasts represent our most important industry, they were submitted to the Minister for Agriculture and his experts, and we awaited the results with alarm. I have not been to Chartres Cathedral for years, but remember somewhere outside the great door figures of angels or saints, whose spiritual dignity and architectural effect depend upon bodies much longer in proportion to the length of their heads than a man's body ever was. The artist who must fill a given space and suggest some spiritual quality or rhythmic movement finds it necessary to suppress or exaggerate. Art, as some French critic has said, is appropriate exaggeration. The expert on horse-flesh or bull-flesh, or swine-flesh, on the other hand is bound to see his subject inanimate and isolated. The coins have suffered less than we feared. The horse, as first drawn, was more alive than the later version, for when the hind legs were brought more under the body and the head lowered, in obedience to technical opinion, it lost muscular tension; we passed from the open country to the show-ground. But, on the other hand, it is something to know that we have upon our half-crown a representation of an Irish hunter, perfect in all its points, and can add the horseman's pleasure to that of the children and the artists. The first bull had to go, though one of the finest of all the designs, because it might have upset, considered as an ideal, the eugenics of the farmyard, but the new bull is as fine, in a different way. I sigh, however, over the pig, though I admit that the state of the market for pig's cheeks made the old design impossible. A design is like a musical composition, alter some details and all has to be altered. With the round cheek of the pig went the lifted head, the look of insolence and wisdom, and the comfortable round bodies of the little pigs. We have instead querulous and harassed animals, better merchandise but less living.

I have given here my own opinions and impressions, and I have no doubt my committee differs from some, but I know no other way of writing. We had all our points of view, though I can only remember one decision that was not unanimous. A member had to be out-voted because he wanted to substitute a harrier for a wolf-hound on the ground that on the only occasion known to him when hare and wolf-hound met, the wolf-hound ran away. I am sorry that our meetings have come to an end, for we learned to like each other well.

What remains to be said is said in the name of the whole committee. Our work could not have been done so quickly nor so well had not the Department of Finance chosen Mr. McCauley for our secretary. Courteous, able and patient, he has a sense of order that fills me with wonder.

W. B. YEATS

Chairman of the Committee

Editor's Note: Permission to publish poet Yeats' observations on the selection of the Irish animal coins was granted the A.N.A. by the Controller, Stationery Office, Dublin, and by Bord Fáilte Éireann for the illustrations.

S. Assay Office. Please do not send cash. Send order direct to Officer in Charge, U. S. Assay Office, Numismatic Service, 350 Duboce St., San Francisco, Calif. 94102.

The U. S. Assay Office at San Francisco, as an agency of the Bureau of the Mint, reserves the right to reduce or cancel any order regardless of whether or not it has been acknowledged. In the event of a reduction or cancellation, appropriate refund will be made.

The mint will not guarantee a specific delivery date, although all orders will be filled as soon as possible after January 1, 1967. Orders will be filled in the same sequence in which they are processed by the Assay Office.

Once you have ordered Special Mint Sets from the Assay Office, you will automatically receive order forms for any future coin sets issued by the Bureau of the Mint.

The government is no longer taking mail orders for 1965 dated United States Special Mint Sets. However, until such time as the existing supply is exhausted, they will continue to be available over the counter at the cash division of the main Treasury in Washington, D. C., at the mints in Philadelphia and Denver, and at the assay offices in New York and San Francisco.

Acceptance of mail orders for the 1966 dated sets was discontinued on December 10, 1966. Upon completion of the shipping schedule any excess sets will be made available over the counter, in the same manner as for the 1965 sets.

Counterstamped U. S. Large Cents

KENNETH L. HALLENBECK, JR., A.N.A. #17797

Response to my article on "Counterstamped U. S. Large Cents" in the August 1965 issue of The Numismatist has been something just short of amazing. Dozens of people have written with the result that several hundred new unpublished counterstamped U. S. large cents have become known to me. With this article the number of "listed" counterstamped U. S. large cents about doubles from the original August 1965 article.

It is always interesting to speculate whether an "unpublished" coin (or counterstamp in this case) is worth more money or less money than one "published." As far as counterstamps are concerned. It is my contention there really isn't much difference. If anything, there might be more value due to the increased interest created by being published.

This listing and the previous listing would have been impossible without the wonderful cooperation of numismatists from all over the country. It isn't possible to mention everyone who helped, but the following have been of special help in one way or another, either directly or indirectly: J. J. Curto, Ed Leaming, H. M. Oechsner, Jim Johnson, Aaron Feldman, Max M. Schwartz, D. E. Lee, Al Hoch, L. L. Rudduck, Jack Nestle, Maurice M. Gould, Paul S. Seitz and Allen Corson.

This article is merely a listing of known varieties of counterstamped U. S. large cents. No attempt has been made here to do any real research. That is reserved for other articles.

A number of people have asked me why the date of the coin counterstamped hasn't been included in this list and the previous one. Admittedly it would be desirable and interesting to have this information. The list is fairly long now. Some of these coins at present must be considered unique as only one is known, however, certain counterstamps are known to exist on many dates of large cents. To list one date for some, no dates for others (where it is worn off the coin), and many dates for still others seems cumbersome. The biggest reason of all however, is that this article is a continuation of the first one and I've already committed myself to the style of that one.

As a word of explanation, you'll notice some counterstamps with slashes between the words. This is not part of the counterstamp, but just separates the different lines. An example is: DR. SHATTUCK'S/WATER CURE/WATERFORD/ME. This indicated that the counterstamp actually appears as follows:

ME.

This type of article is really never done. I would appreciate hearing from 11.514 — A. KLINGEB, Elkhart, Indiana. This illustrates a "good" type of counterstamp with name, occupation and location. Unfortunately, considerable research has failed to uncover Klingeb's first name and when he operated as a jeweler in Elkhart.

anyone having any varieties not listed in this and the previous article published in August 1965.

STAMPCOINS INTRODUCED

Collectors of tokens and medals, as well as philatelists specializing in first day issues will now be able to add to their collections of plate-blocks, first-day covers and maximum cards, something new — stampcoins.

Stampcoins are 34mm in size and struck in a gold-colored metal according to Industrial Exhibitions, Inc., the sponsors. Each new issue of U.S. postage stamps in 1967 will have a corresponding stampcoin. These will retail for $2.00 each.

The first in the series is dedicated to Albert Gallatin in whose name a stamp was issued on January 30, and the next one is for Frederick Douglass, lecturer and writer, for whom a stamp was issued on February 14. The obverses will bear the theme of the corresponding stamp issue; the reverse, pertinent information relative to the issue.

FEATURING FAKES

VIRGIL HANCOCK, A.N.A. No. 43616

© 1967 by Virgil Hancock

This was the "C" that was!

A tough thumbnail, strongly pressed against the top edge of the left-hand "C" on this BU 1889-CC silver dollar (1) popped the "C" into orbit . . . and the coin's $500.00 purchase price vanished simultaneously into thin air.

The tiny fake "C" is die-struck of silver. In the photo (2) the solder remains on the field of the coin, and shows the shape of that die-struck "C" that was. There's no opening in the center of the fake "C" but, instead, there's a very thin, silver backing which even on ordinarily close inspection would pass as being a "filled" letter on a mint die.

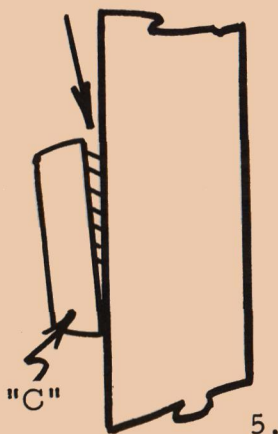

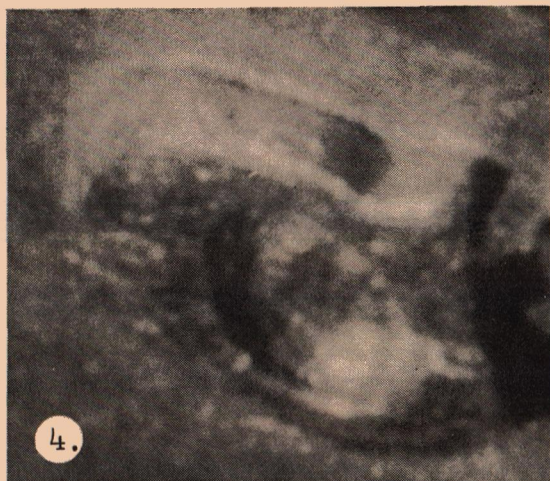

Five long-time, experienced, US silver dollar collectors and dealers examined that 1889-CC . . . as well as two BU 1892-S dollars and one BU 1903-S . . . and all five men pronounced the four coins as being genuine, as having bona fide mintmarks.

However, when the coins were tilted to an almost vertical position, and viewed at an angle with a 30-power stereoscopic microscope, the plot thickened . . . all four coins were seen to be frauds.

Focussing sharply on the juncture of the mintmark and the field, and very, very slowly rotating the coin to examine the complete periphery all around the mintmark, at the top of the "C" was seen a minute gap . . . only one-half as thick as the thickness of this sheet of paper . . . as shown exaggerated and indicated by the arrow in Figure 5.

Figures 3 and 4 are unretouched photos of the remaining "C" and, if you look closely, you can see the dark line of the gap . . . one-thousandth of an inch wide . . . along the top of the "C" mintmark.

Whether the thief uses cement or solder for his adhesive, the adhesive must have some thickness, however small. Thus there's almost always a tiny gap at some point around the applied mintmark. Patience, a steady hand, and at least a 30-power stereoscopic microscope are needed to unmask the gap and the phony mintmark.

The gap of the fake "S" on a BU 1903-S silver dollar (which sold for $110.00) is shown by the arrow in Figure 6.

One of the 1892-S coins (which sold for $190.00) had its gap in the same position. The other 1892-S dollar had its gap on the opposite side of the "S" just above the tip of the tail and connecting with the "S" central curve.

Note that, like the fake "C" mintmark, the tiny die-struck silver "S" has its own thin, silver "field" which makes it look like the filled "S" seen on so many bona fide San Francisco mintmarks.

So, go to your bank box, get out your own 1889-CC, your 1892-S, and your 1903-S US silver dollars, borrow a 30x or stronger stereoscopic microscope, and see if you also have a "C" that was! And, if you find you've been a victim of some thief, 'phone the Secret Service. They can back-track through all previous owners until they reach the thief.

In Texas, the state authorities can jail such a thief for felony theft. Since 1966, New York also has a law which can jail the thief. To give the district attorney the evidence he'll need, when you buy a coin you must be certain to have the seller write on your invoice the identifying description of the coin, for example, "One 1889-CC US silver dollar." Then, if the coin is proved to be a fake, the seller can be indicted for felony theft. Possibly your state has a similar law. If not, why not?

A Commemorative Paper Money Society!!

By

RANDOLPH ZANDER, ANA 11168

Friends may remember the eloquent plea of a few months ago for an orgy of commemorative banknote floating. They'll be heartened to know that the response is gratifying. Some fine numismatic industrialists are with us. Inquiries have come from embassies and legations. One of the most gifted craftsmen in the business has said he's eager to serve as soon as his parole papers are signed.

Accordingly we have determined to press forward. As of this writing, the Societe Commemoratrice des Amateurs de Monnaie de Papier (SCAMP) stands established. The two principal officers are the President (Chief Scamp) and the Imprimeur-Printer (Scamp-Imp).

Membership is hierarchical. There are levels to suit all tastes and purses. Patrons acquire hereditary membership with the right to bear arms and to remain covered in the presence of Chief Scamp. Fellows may display their arms, with or without crest, on their stationery. Scamp-Herald will be graciously pleased to confer arms, at cost, on any Fellow not already so endowed. Regular membership is divided into Debutant, Amateur and full Member status. Accomplice-Membership is earned automatically by Governments which take part in SCAMP's program. A government so cooperating five times acquires the honorific status of Habitual Accomplice.

Our procedure is simple. Chief Scamp conducts a weekly attitude survey in depth by phone, soliciting the preference of a random panel of ten members (or of the wife, child or domestic, if the member be telephonically not available), and thus informed he determines what the week's commemorative paper will be. Coordination with Imp and with the appropriate Accomplice follows, and the banknotes are struck off. No two issues are handled quite alike, but distribution generally embodies the following actions:

- Accomplice receives a specimen set of the banknotes on rice paper as well as a crackling stack of United States bank notes.

- SCAMP's Museum & Archive receive full documentation and necessary specimens, which they are bound to make available gratuitously for study by recognized scholars and research organizations.

- SCAMP Members have a wide range of options (serious persons may inspect the tariff schedule posted at Skamp-Hauptquartier), e.g.

- Uncut sheet-set on SCAMP-watermarked paper,

- Unsigned set to which the member may affix his own signature on payment of a small surcharge,

- Set with personalized vignettes, to choice of member (allow two weeks extra for delivery)

- Interesting, often unique, accidental printing errors to order of member (allow two weeks extra as above)

Other details of our procedure will suggest themselves to the imaginative Commemorist.

SCAMP's full panel of Accomplices has yet to be realized, but prospective members will share our pride in the group of far-sighted national authorities which we are pleased to believe share the aims of our cultural, non-profit organization — for example:

The Griquatown Successors; l'Empire de Patagonie; The Order of Livonian Knights, Reval Sub-Order; la Republique Independante de la Guyane; the Independent Republic of Piritania; the Government in Exile of the Mosquito Coast, and others too numerous to mention.

Reflective readers may wonder why so many of our Accomplices lodge for the moment at a home away from home, so to speak. I can only submit, not in rebuttal but for clarification's sake, that it is precisely the Government in exile, freed from the petty drabness of day-to-day administration, that most often finds the time and the inclination to see matters in that spacious, grandiose encadrement which appeals to right-thinking Scampi.

QUADRICENTENNIAL OF CARACAS NOTED

In late 1966, the Venezuelan government issued its first five bolivar paper note. Although the original intent of the new notes was to commemorate the 400th anniversary of Caracas, they are urgently needed to fill the void caused by the current coin shortage in Venezuela. It has been reported that the Venezuelan crowns have completely evaporated into the thin air of Caracas.

Approximately the size of current U.S. paper money, the green and blue obverse depicts the founding of Caracas by Don Diego de Losada with the identifying legend, "Quadricentenary of the Founding of Caracas, 1567-1967," in Spanish. In an oval frame, to the right, is the effigy of their national hero, Bolívar — Liberator.

The reverse, predominantly blue, shows a copy of the original map of Santiago de Leon de Caracas, ordered in 1567 by the first governor Don Juan de Pimental. The coat of arms of Venezuela appears to the right of the map. The country now has in circulation notes of 5, 10, 20, 50, 100 and 500 bolivars.

The New Orleans Canal & Banking Company

By

JAMES H. WHITE, A. N. A. 5230

AFTER all these years, it is strange that additional varieties of long discontinued bank notes turn up. Several have come to the attention of the writer since the last article on "Canal Bank" notes appeared in The Numismatist for January 1963. To publicize these varieties the following information has been prepared:

$5.00

It has BLACK and GRAY printing on BUFF paper. The reverse is plain. It is signed by Bev. Chew (Beverly Chew) as cashier, who was one of the founders of the company. It has been assumed that a sheet of this variety consisted of Serial Letters A, B, C and D. (Attention is called to the plural form of "promise.")

This type of $5.00 note is believed to be one of the first notes issued by The New Orleans Canal & Banking Company, which was chartered in 1831. It was printed by "Draper Underwood Bald & Spencer," which was formed in 1833 as the successor of Draper, Underwood & Co. In 1835 the name was changed to Draper, Underwood, Bald, Spencer & Hufty, and in 1837 again changed to Underwood, Bald & Spencer.

"The story of The New Orleans Canal and Banking Company is a history of the physical and economic development of the City of New Orleans, from 1831 down to the present time," said James H. White in his original presentation in The Numismatist of July, 1951. A complete history of these issues appeared in that edition. Subsequently, a short addendum appeared in the January 1963 issue.

For those of you who were not members of the Association at that time, these editions of The Numismatist can be borrowed direct from the A.N.A. Library. Check your Library Catalog for proper procedure.

This latter company printed the sheet of three 10s showing Neptune, and one 20 showing sailor with flag, and this had been considered the first issue of notes. The appearance of the $5.00 note that could have been produced as early as 1833 now raises the question of the possible issuance of $10.00, $20.00, $50.00, $100.00 and even $500.00 and $1,000.00 notes prior to the issuance of the above sheet of 10s and 20 which could not have been printed before 1837. This theory is borne out of reference in an historical article on this bank to "circulation" of over $600,000 at June 25, 1832.

Printed by "Toppan, Carpenter & Co. Philad." This note was No. 59 in Mr. Wismer's classification.

A companion note of $500.00 was also issued and given No. 58 by Mr. Wismer, who described it as:

The writer has no specimen, but it is believed these $500 and $1000 notes were issued as a 2-note sheet, the same as all other notes of these denominations.

Frank F. Sprinkle's "Master List of Uncut Sheets of Obsolete Bills" lists a $5.00 note, with serial letters A, B, C and D, printed by "National Bank Note Co." about 1860. The writer has no specimen from which to obtain a description. This $5.00 note, and the $10.00 note with spread eagle and plain reverse, also printed by National Bank Note Co., are believed to be the last varieties of notes issued by this bank.

The $20.00 variety showing angels on each side of a large figure 20 was issued with the monogram ABNCo. on thick paper with red reverse, and previously without the monogram on thin paper with brown reverse.

The $10.00 note with large building in center has been found with inverted reverse.

The $10.00 note with large X in center with Washington on right and Franklin on left was printed on thin paper, thick paper, and thick red fiber paper.

The $500.00 note with steamship, and the $1,000.00 note with a female seated on each side of a shield, were printed as a 2-note sheet on thick paper, and also on thin paper.

It is considered highly probable that more varieties of Canal Bank notes will be located in the future.

AMELIA EARHART HONORED

Fifth in the series of commemorative medals issued by the Societe Commemorative de Femmes Celebres, a society devoted to honoring famous women, is a tribute to Amelia Earhart, the aviatrix who had captured the hearts and imagination of young Americans in the 1930s. Designed and sculptured by Robert A. Weinman for the SCFC, 3,220 copies were struck, one for each member of the society. In addition to these serially numbered sterling silver proofs, three additional specimens were struck in platinum—one for presentation to an appropriate non-profit institution, one for presentation to the Smithsonian Institution and one for the Societe's permanent collection. Membership rolls in the society itself are now permanently closed.

New and Recent Issues

By

ERNST KRAUS, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Iran

So fabulous are the crown jewels of Iran that they are used to back that nation's currency. It is the world's largest collection, so valuable that its value has never been estimated, so extensive that the stones have never been counted. The gems are stored in the locked vaults of the national bank. They are left unguarded and they are not insured. One reason is that officials have no idea how many loose stones there are, although some three thousand set pieces have been catalogued.

Iranian coins use the Mohammedan dating. The first year of that calendar being equivalent to our 622 A.D. (the date of Mohammed's flight or Heriga). The abbreviation A.H. means "after Heriga."

Lauren Benson, who submitted the above specimen, noted that the planchet is somewhat smaller than the last previous issue of this value, first issued with the date 1334 A.H.

Japan

Japan has just released, on February 1, 1967, two coins noting the forty-second year of the Showa era. The naming of eras is a prerogative of the Imperial emperors. Hirohito, coming to power in 1926, announced that his was to be called Showa, which means Enlightened Peace. It was tragically ironic except for those too young to remember the China-Japan conflict and World War II.

This is one of the former native princely states of India. Rasal Mahabat Khan III was the ruler of this state at the time of issue of these coins.

2 dokdo, 1908 A.D. Bronze. Obverse: inscription in Nagari in center circle, "2 dokdo;" legend around in outer circle, "Great Government of Sorath;" Samvat date at the bottom, "1964." Reverse: inscription in Urdu, "Two Paisa Government of Junagadh." Planchet is 20mm, weight 7.42 gramm.

Peru

According to Senor Luis Gianelloni of Lima, Peru, who submitted the following specimens, a strike is in progress at the Lima Mint and only a limited number of 1966 dated coins have been struck.

Vatican City

Originally the Papal States covered some 16,000 square miles. Its territory became part of Italy in 1871, but in 1929 Vatican City was recognized as an independent state and it now covers an area of 108 square acres.

All the coins listed below are identical in design and are dated 1966. They differ only in size, value, metal and edge.

2 lire. Aluminum. Similar to above except for size and value. Reeded edge.

5 lire. Aluminum. Similar, but plain edge.

10 lire. Aluminum. Similar, but plain edge.

20 lire. Aluminum-bronze. Similar, but reeded edge.

50 lire. Acmonital (steel). Similar, but reeded edge.

100 lire. Acmonital (steel). Similar, but reeded edge.

500 lire, Silver. Similar to above except for size and value. However, the edge is inscribed in Latin, IN NOMINE DOMINI (In the Name of the Lord).

Zambia

A brief biographical description of Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia, can be found in the March issue of The Numismatist.

Numismatic Classic

THE EARLY PAPER MONEY OF AMERICA by Eric P. Newman. 360 pages. Illustrated. Hard cover. Whitman Publishing Co.

The similarity of the title of this book to Crosby's The Early Coins of America is no mere coincidence, for this is really a companion to that 90-year old numismatic classic on colonial coins. We feel sure that Eric P. Newman, one of America's outstanding numismatic scholars, did no less research and preparation for his new book than did Crosby for his. Surely few who call themselves numismatists are unfamiliar with Newman's well composed and documented articles published during the past decade on our colonial paper money.

The following paragraph from Newman's preface clearly states his aim in producing this book: "During the (past) century of research and writing . . . many specialized studies, auction catalogs, and other publications added extensively to the fund of knowledge relating to early American paper money. Nevertheless, there still seemed to be a need for a comprehensive and coordinated compilation of numismatic data as to early American paper money covering the full gamut of issues and denominations, whether extant or not, whether issued publicly or privately, describing varieties and unusual features, illustrating all available issues, giving historical background and statistics as to issues, authorization, signers, mottoes, engravers, printers, counterfeits, and other details, and including a categorized bibliography."

Examination of the book and knowledge of the author's ability and dedication to the subject convinces this reviewer that the book achieves the goal set. About the size of Crosby's well known book, it is well printed on high quality paper and has a handsome and durable binding. The continental currency is presented first, then 15 colonies (including a private issue in Florida) follow in alphabetic order. Preceding all is an index by subject and a very helpful 20-page "Introduction," including many reference titles, and completing the work are 4 appendixes of general data.

Illustrations are numerous and excellent, usually actual size. A system of coded information helps greatly in saving space. "Generally collectible" notes are priced in several conditions by two well-known dealers in the field — Ben M. Douglas and Richard Picker. Brief historical information is given for each issue. Everything on a particular issue — illustrations, information, denominations, values, etc. — is together so that one need not search in different sections. An unusual stick of symbolic figures was designed to separate each item from the one preceding and following. This feature is most helpful and, incidentally, adds to the attractiveness of the book.

This is one of several recently published numismatic books which may be considered classics and enduring. It is an outstanding example of what can result from the coordinated efforts of a dedicated and painstaking researcher-collector and an experienced publisher. Every collector of the subject notes, every well-rounded numismatist, and every student of early American history should — and most will — soon add a copy of The Early Paper Money of America to his library. It will be popular as a pleasing gift to any such person. Available from coin dealers and book stores. — GLENN S.

The Potter's Mint

MUNZEN AUS PORZELLAN UND TON (Money of Porcelain and Clay) by Karl Scheuch. 138 pages. 37 plates. Papercover $6.00.

Here is a much needed numismatic book, describing and illustrating the porcelain coins minted at Meissen. To those who go beyond the collecting of standard government issues and have had to collect these beautiful porcelain pieces by ear since the Belgian book, Munzen und Marken by Adelbert Van Roosbroeck is no longer available on the book market will find their desires fulfilled in this volume. A preface in English goes into the history and manufacture of the coins and describes the technical aspects of porcelain coin minting. This is followed by an explanation of the markings and abbreviations as they appear in the text, along with an explanation of the decorations (gilt and colors) that are found on the various issues, all this in English to make the German text easily understandable. A comprehensive index combined with the hundreds of photographic illustrations should make the attribution of any particular porcelain piece a relatively easy matter. A very welcome feature for both the collector and dealer is the valuation section with 20 pages listing all varieties on a rarity scale based on mintages as explained in the preface.

The photos are very sharp and clear, but are of necessity for the size of the book reduced in size. The deep relief of the porcelain pieces allowed the engravers more latitude in expressing themselves and with the use of gilt and colored paints effects are outstanding. Even if you don't own a porcelain coin you will find this book a worthwhile addition to your numismatic library. Impact Loss

ROMAN IMPERIAL COINAGE, Vol. VII, CONSTANTINE and LICINIUS by Patrick Bruun. Edited by C. H. V. Surtherland and R. A. G. Carson. 778 pages. 24 plates. Board covers. Spink and Son, Ltd., London.

Another volume in the Roman Imperial Coinage series initiated by Mattingly and Sydenham has now appeared and the publishers tell us that the remaining three volumes (numbers VI, VIII, and X) are in active preparation with VI due within the next 12 months. Forty-four years have passed since the first volume appeared (1923) and nearly 16 years since the last issue was published. The long wait between volumes has caused the impact desired by the original authors, that of a pure scientific approach to Roman coinage, to be lost. However, this book is beautifully conceived, executed and Dr. Bruun must be congratulated for his efforts.

Beyond any doubt this is the most up to date and detailed reference on its field available today and, as such, is a must acquisition for advanced collectors. It must be admitted though that it is probably a bit too much for the average beginner to digest since they usually find the simple, generalized (and definitely non-scientific) approach of Henri Cohen (Monnaies sous L'empire Romain) more adaptable to their requirements. To the student, however, this volume by Bruun is a proud addition to an already distinguished series. The coinage of Constantine and his colleague Licinius (and their families) is carefully defined, mint by mint, in a meticulous manner with great attention to detail which has characterized this entire series from its onset. The plates are excellent, the indices are comprehensive as is the bibliography.

Since this is a descriptive, not critical, review this should suffice to bring this fine work to the readers' attentions. The reviewer is sure that the late authors, Harold Mattingly and the Rev. E. Sydenham, by whose names the series is generally known, would give full approval to this latest addition. Note should also be made that the entire series is being reprinted and has been made available at £60 on a subscription basis. The closing date was January 31, 1967, but it may be that if those interested write Spink and Son, they may be able to still subscribe at this price. It is a bargain. — J. LHOTKA

A Lesson in Chinese

A WORKING AID FOR COLLECTORS OF ANNA-MESE COINS by John A. Novak. 115 pages. Illustrated. Papercover. Ken and Creta Olmsted.

Staff Sergeant John A. Novak, presently stationed in Japan, (but soon to be stationed in Washington, D. C.) and the editor of a mimeographed numismatic magazine, has given collectors interested in Annamese coins a clear, concise and valuable index of the coins, charms and amulets of that land. It is in the form of a Chinese style index listing the coins by the number of strokes in the characters, starting with the key character (first) on each coin which to all intents and purposes is always in the 12 o'clock position of the obverse of the coin. This handy monograph is a "must" for collectors of Annamese coins.

As he says he has listed as complete an index as it is humanly possible to present today. And to start off you turn to pp. 8-9 and from the "Key Sequence Chart" or stroke index, you locate the key character on the page given (to the right of the character), and from there you go to the second character, etc. until you find the coin you have. Once you have found it pictured you check on the left-hand page for the details concerning that particular coin. You find the Romanization of the characters, the date when known, and references. All of this is done up in a succinct, terse package. This briefly summarizes the whole book.

Only 500 copies have been published, which is an error, because many more will be needed. However, this allows for the few corrections or additions needed in a second edition.

The one danger for any of us who are familiar with a foreign land is that we take much for granted on the part of our readers. For instance there are numerals within circles on the chart on pp. 8-9. Nothing is shown at the head of the chart to designate what these figures are for. They simply give the number of strokes in the characters listed immediately after them.

Novak has also taken for granted that collectors know that the Annamese used Chinese characters, only pronouncing them in their own language. Koreans and Japanese also use Chinese characters but pronounce them in their respective languages. Take coin No. 3 (p. 10) for instance. It is pronounced Ta Yüan T'ung Pao in Chinese but Dai Nguyen Thong Bao in Annamese.

These characters are tricky at times and a single stroke or part of a stroke can mean an entirely different thing. For instance MU (*) mean wood or tree. But write the character without the vertical stroke "raising its head" above the horizontal stroke like this () and it is the character TUN for stump, or treestump. With this in mind look at No. 108 in this monograph and you will find that the character at 9 o'clock has been translated TONG, which is the Chinese for SUNG. But the vertical stroke does not "raise its head" above the vertical stroke in the lower part of the character and thus it is not Tong or Sung. It is another abbreviation of the character usually found at the 9 o'clock position and should read BAO. For other abbreviations of this character see coins 140 and 95. These abbreviations for the full-fledged formal character are often used as we use Ph.D. for Doctor of Philosophy. Now study the character BAO as given on most every page and you will find that the abbreviations use only one of three parts of the character found "under the roof." The "roof" itself is always there and the full character has three separate parts under the roof, but the abbreviations contain only one of the three parts. Unless one has studied Chinese characters for years he just doesn't come up with all of these right away, and never comes up with all of them, as a rule. I might add here that John Novak is a real student of Chinese characters and knows his way around with them, but we all get tripped up now and then.

This monograph has accomplished its purpose in a great way. Get a copy while it is available. Write Ken and Creta Olmsted, P.O. Box 611, Longview, Wash. 98632. — REV. ARTHUR B. COOLE

A new 2-rupee note was placed in circulation recently in Ceylon. It is red-brown in color, dated 1965-9-9, and shows a large stone statue of a god on the obverse with a building on the reverse. Printed by Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co. of England, it supersedes the previous 2-rupee note dated 1962-11-8 that had an entirely different face side design. No other denomination of the new series has been seen to date. — Jerome H. Remick, A.N.A. 11359

Expo 67, which will highlight the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Canadian confederation, is scheduled to open April 28, 1967, and run for 183 days. It is expected to attract participation by more than 70 nations of the world, the largest number ever to take part in a world exhibition. A free transit system, able to accommodate more than 3,000 riders each hour, will provide rapid transportation to all points of the 1,000-acre site in Montreal. — INCO News Letter

LATE WORLD COIN NEWS

WASHINGTON

Into The Hopper

A number of congressional bills are now floating around committee, bills that in one way or another reflect to continued interest in numismatics in this country.

Perhaps the bill most important to collectors at the moment is a joint resolution, S.J. Res. 28 in the Senate, H.J. Res. 175 in the House of Representatives, that would authorize the President of the United States to proclaim the fourth week in April in every year as National Coin Week.

Introduced on February 3rd to the 1st session of the 90th Congress by Senator McClellan in the Senate and by Representative Gathings, also of Arkansas, in the House, the short bill simply reads, "Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives assembled, that the President is authorized and requested to issue annually a proclamation designating the fourth week in April of each year as National Coin Week."

The bill has been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. It was introduced on behalf of the American Numismatic Association.

Another piece of legislation pending in Washington, is H.R. 4449. This is a bill introduced by Congressman Annunzio of Illinois calling for the repeal of the prohibition against mint marks on coins of the United States. This prohibition was originally instituted as a result of the coin shortage, now past, and written into the Coinage Act of 1965. A similar supporting bill has been introduced by Senator Sparkman, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in the U. S. Senate. Annunzio's bill has been referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

AUSTRALIA

No More Aspirins!

Australia has now completed one year of financial operations under the decimal currency system — Australian dollars and cents. This system, introduced on February 14, 1966, replaces the old system of Australian pounds, shillings and pence, which was similar to that currently operating in Britain, and also New Zealand (which plans a change to decimals this year). One dollar Australian equals $1.12 U. S.

By February 14, 1967, Australia had not displaced the pound-unit from daily trading, but an official announcement has just been made that the "grace" period ends this August, after which no more pounds, shillings and pence may be presented as payment for transactions, as legal tender.

The situation is that, so far, while dollars and cents have been the official currency since the changeover (bank checks may be written only in dollars), pounds and old coins are still legal tender for purchases in department stores and the like. This will end in August 1967, when the old units will finally be phased out.

The announcement regarding the coming end of dual currency was made by William McMahon, Australian Federal Treasurer, in Canberra. Closing out of dual currency is arriving in a much shorter time than had originally been planned.

Highlights of Australia's first year of decimal currency were:

There has been a "run" on the 50-cent coins, which have become relatively scarce (as has been experienced in U. S.).

A five-dollar bill is to be added to the currency.

Forgers attempted to cash large quantities of counterfeit $10 bills last year, but otherwise the first year was free of incident.

The old coinage is also being replaced as new decimal coins are minted and circulated. Over the next two years the Federal Government expects to receive about $A 56,000,000 ($US 62,720,000) in revenue from the melting down of the silver three-penny, six-penny, shilling and two shilling units of the old currency.

Two overseas companies, Degussa of Frankfurt, Germany, and Johnson, Matthey and Co. Ltd., of Britain, are to be awarded contracts under which they will refine the coins and purchase the metal.

Many of the old copper penny and half-penny units of the old currency, which have no decimal currency equivalents, have been melted down to make one and two-cent coins.

Australia has also sold 5,500,000 pennies to New Zealand, which will use them to relieve a shortage of pennies until it also adopts decimal currency in July, 1967.

One of the mysteries of the new currency has been the scarcity of 50¢ coins. Although 36,500,000 of these large and handsome coins were minted, the supply in circulation appears to have diminished. The coin is a convenient and valuable unit for storing in savings boxes and its appearance and 80 per cent silver content may have given it some value as a collector's item.

The Decimal Currency Board has made a close study of the effect of the new currency on retail prices and its conclusion is that there has been no noticeable overall effect at all.

HUNGARY

Repeat Performance

Hungary's 1967 proof sets are now available for distribution, announced a spokesman for International Coin Co., Inc. of Cleveland, Ohio, world-wide distributors for these coins.

The coins are similar to the 1966 Hungary proof sets and come in the following denominations: 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 fillers, and 1, 2 and 5 forints. The filler denominations are struck in nickel silver while the forint pieces are in .835 fine silver.

The 5 forint piece portrays Lajos Kossuth, Hungary's national hero and key figure in the 1848 Revolution.

Mintage for the 1967 proof set has been limited to 5,000, claims George Dickstein, International Coin president. "This is identical to the mintage figure for the 1966 sets," added Dickstein. All Hungarian coins are struck at the Budapest Mint, a coin-striking facility whose history goes back to the fourteenth century.

Price for the 1967 set is $15.00 complete in a plush-lined steel presentation case.

Additional information regarding the 1967 sets can be obtained by writing to International Coin Co., Inc. at 2341 Carnegie, Cleveland, Ohio 44115.

ISRAEL

First In A Long Time

1967 specimen sets containing the first Israel coins struck in Jerusalem in more than 1800 years were placed on sale in the U. S. through 36 cooperating banks on February 15, official day of issue. The bank sale is a "repeat performance." On the same day in 1966, 28 banks similarly distributed sets to tens of thousands of collectors and non-collectors alike.

The handsomely packaged sets include one each of the 1 agora, 5, 10 and 25 agoroth, ½ and 1 lira coins. Each coin is in brilliant uncirculated condition and specially selected.

Of the total issue of 155,000 1967 sets, more than 50,000 have already been ordered by U. S. collectors through the mails. The mail-order period ended on January 15 and from February 15, the only source will be the over-the-counter sales at banks. Check your locality.

TONGA

Seniti Pa'anga To You!

Tonga's 1967 proof series and regular circulation coins will soon be made available for distribution according to Allan Petrov of New York City, numismatic importer.

The coins come in denominations of 1 pa'anga, 50, 20, 10, 5, 2 and 1 seniti. The 1 and 2 seniti are struck in bronze while the other issues are struck in cupro-nickel.

The proof series, of which only five thousand will be minted, will be struck by the Royal Mint. The complete series of seven proof coins will be specially packed and boxed.

The regular circulation series will be available in sets of seven coins and the 1 pa'anga, which is the same diameter as the American dollar, may be had as a single piece.

The obverse of all issues are the same, the bust of Queen Salote Tupou III facing right with date 1967 below. The reverse of the 1 pa'anga, 50 & 20 seniti carry the value on top and the word TONGA below the national symbol of three stars representing the groups of islands (Tongatabu, Vavau, Haabai). Two national flags facing left and right with the royal crown between and circled by isi leaves. Legend in ribbon. The 10 & 5 seniti have three stars with value within open circle of isi leaves and TONGA above with SENITI below. The 2 & 1 seniti show a turtle with the value below.

Interested collectors may write to Allan Petrov, 116 East 58th St., New York, New York 10022, for an illustrated circular, which will show size, weight, composition and quantity minted of all issues.

Will You Miss The Fun?

APRIL is here again and as in past years the time has come to celebrate National Coin Week. If you have not already planned a National Coin Week program for your area, why not start now? All that is necessary is to put out a few displays and get a little favorable publicity for our fine hobby through newspapers, radio, and possibly television. Give a few talks during this month which is also National Hobby Month. Don't forget to submit a report to us (either competitive or non-competitive) by May 24th so that we can include your efforts in the over-all National Coin Week report.

Every individual member and member club of the American Numismatic Association has a responsibility to promote numismatics during this period. In this way we can show the public what our hobby is all about and interest them in coin collecting as a pastime.

As your campaign develops, you will find that you are enjoying yourself by giving of your time and talents to the betterment of our hobby and the enlightenment of the public. Your valuable contribution to this important program is urgently needed, so please get started today.

Whether you manage to exhibit one numismatic display or 50; whether you have published two column inches of newspaper publicity about our hobby or 2,000; whether you give one numismatic talk or 20; your personal contribution is very important to us in adding up the total effect of National Coin Week, April 22-29, this year. Please do not neglect to send us a report of your efforts. If you do not have a report form just drop us a note and we will have one on its way to you in the very next mail.

COLORADO SPRINGS PROGRESS

Favorable weather continues in the Colorado Springs area and the thirty-day headway on the completion date has been maintained. Little noticeable change can now be noted on the exterior of the building but inside a maze of offices, work rooms, study rooms and exhibit areas are taking shape fast. Windows have now been installed, heating, plumbing and electrical wiring are now in the advance stages; ceilings, walls and plastering, each in proper order now enable the visitor to visualize the completed building, a building set to serve the collector and student starting June 10, 1967 — dedication day.

Headquarters Dedication June 10

With the building fund drive finished and construction of the new ANA building moving rapidly towards completion, the dedication of your association's home and headquarters in Colorado Springs is set for Saturday afternoon, June 10. With the paint scarcely dry, sparkling new furnishings and the headquarters personnel occupying their new offices, everything, including the library, will be ready for your inspection. Mark your calendar now and arrange to take part in this historic and long-to-be-remembered dedication.

In addition take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy a travel adventure to a great American recreational and vacation paradise. Enjoy springtime in the Rockies, see the green forests and majestic mountains of Colorado and explore the beautiful Garden of the Gods, 14,110 feet high Pikes Peak, Rocky Mountain National Park, Estes Park, fabulous Cripple Creek gold mining area and countless other natural attractions, including fishing, hiking and camping, so abundant in this mile high land of blue skys and sunshine.

Experience the warm hospitality of the two million people of Colorado and its colorful and romantic history of cowboys, Indians, pioneers and miners of the old West, and today's flourishing cities, industry, defense activities and entertainment in the setting of the Colorado way of life.

As a numismatist you will also enjoy a trip through the big Denver mint to watch the manufacture of the coins we collect and study. You will marvel at the fascinating numismatic history of the West, the pioneer Denver mint of Clark, Gruber and Co., which struck over a century ago the Colorado territorial gold rarities of today, and was later purchased by the United States to become the Denver mint.

As you approach Colorado Springs from the great plains of the Mississippi Basin, you will view your association's headquarters city with its two hundred thousand inhabitants, nestled in the shadows of Pikes Peak and the Rocky Mountains. This is the city of the U. S. Air Force Academy and the North American Air Defense Command (NO-RAD) with its worldwide command center hollowed out of a stone mountain.

Concurrently with the headquarters dedication the Southern Colorado Nuismatic Association's convention will be under way on June 9, 10 & 11 at the beautiful, new Antlers Hotel, where you may secure reservations and enjoy the exhibits, bourse, auction and other trimmings of a big regional coin show. As an ANA member and a numismatist you and your family have an invitation to attend this convention all with its planned special entertainments.

Topping off your marvelous trip will be the dedication of your association's new home and headquarters. This event is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Our association's new headquarters and all it means for numismatic progress is the product of time, effort and money contributed by countless thousands of numismatists and collectors scattered over our great country. The successful completion of the fund raising drive has insured that the building will be fully paid for and debt free upon completion, but we must still raise a little more money to furnish and equip it. We hope this can be done before the dedication only two months away.

With the building fund drive completed, good progress is being made with your association's drive to raise $40,000 for furnishings and equipment. The drive thermometer shows that up to February 20, cash in the amount of $10,084.49 and coins with a donor's valuation of $12,039.45 have been received. Other contributions are being processed or are in transit. During the past month 49 gave $6,571.50.

Join with those who are putting the finishing touches upon this big project. Mail a tax deductible check or some coins and be proud that you have shared in this numismatic achievement. See that your club becomes a "250-Club." Make a substantial lifetime gift and become a permanent and honored ANA Patron or Benefactor. In the years to come, you will receive a lasting satisfaction in knowing that you helped furnish and equip your association's home and headquarters. Do it now and mark your calendar to attend the dedication!

— CHARLES M. JOHNSON, CHAIRMAN OF FUND RAISING AND BUILDING COMMITTEES.

One Year's Rent Is A One Dollar Bill!

Typical of a bank president, William C. Henderson, newly named treasurer of the A.N.A., has found a way to s-t-r-e-t-c-h a dollar bill. Autographing one he has used it to pay for one year's rent on the land lease for the new home and headquarters.

Taking the same dollar, A.N.A. president Matt H. Rothert, I., presents it to Lloyd E. Worner, president of Colorado College, on whose campus the new home and headquarters is located. Rothert later donated a bill that will be used for the year 2066.

There have been many advantages to locating the new home and headquarters of the American Numismatic Association here in Colorado Springs. Climate, location, friendly citizens and co-operating neighbors, but perhaps one of the better advantages has been the assessed rental on the land that the new building occupies. One dollar per year is not exactly an excessive figure.

The 1967 rent has been paid and in brief but impressive ceremonies at Colorado College, on whose campus the A.N.A. is located. William C. Henderson, newly named treasurer of the association and president of the Pikes Peak National Bank, made the yearly payment to Lloyd E. Worner, president of the college. ANA president Matt H. Rothert and other board of governor members were present.

The bill used for the annual payment was dated and autographed by Henderson. After the ceremonies President Rothert autographed and dated a bill that will be used to pay the rent for the year 2066, the first year of the second and final ninety-nine year lease. The association has the option to renew the first lease in the year 2065. Ralph Cleaver, a former member of the board of governors of the A.N.A. donated the first dollar when the original lease was signed last year.

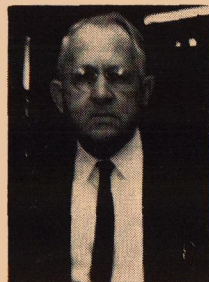

This leaves 97 years on the first lease and 98 years on the second ninety-nine year contract to be paid. Collector-members of the association who would like to pay one year's rent with a dollar bill bearing their autograph may do so by sending their dollar to Jack R. Koch, Executive Director, American Numismatic Association, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901.

Collectors will be advised of the year that their dollar will be used to pay the annual rental and surplus contributions will be directed to the furnishings fund now under way to equip the building upon completion.

Meet Another Patron

A. J. Mitula, Jr. joined the list of honored patrons last month with a furnishings and equipment fund donation of $1200 in coins. Mitula is a coin dealer, or should we say, a retired coin dealer.

A. J. Mitula, Jr.

He sold his business to Coronada Coin Galleries on December 31, 1966. Mitula started in business in 1933 and maintained the same location until 1963 when he opened a business in a second Houston, Texas, location still maintaining his familiar Continental Building site.

Mitula started collecting coins in 1909 and had even tried to advertise and sell coins as early as 1912. He now plans a world tour returning about July 1. He will then specialize in appraisals for banks and estates and will act as an advisor to collectors wishing to invest.

Notes & Queries

Local Bank President Named ANA Treasurer

In a move to further consolidate the offices and staff of the A.N.A. here in their headquarters city, the board of governors at their February meeting, named William C. Henderson, president of the Pikes Peak National Bank, treasurer of the association.

Henderson replaces Eldridge G. Jones who has served in this capacity since 1963. Jones has been associated with the Riggs National Bank in Washington, D. C., for the past three decades and has been active in numismatic circles for several years. He is an announced candidate for the election to the board of governors of the ANA this year.

William Henderson has been associated with the Pikes Peak National Bank since 1957 and their president since 1965. From April 1959 to April 1963, he served as mayor of Colorado Springs. A World War II veteran, he served overseas for sixteen months in England, France and Germany and was awarded a commendation medal for meritorious service.

The fifty-one year old banker was born in Vaughan, Mississippi and is a 1939 graduate of Colorado College. He also attended Blair's Business College, Colorado Springs; Park's Business College, Denver; and Great Western Business College, Phoenix, Arizona.

An active collector, Henderson is a member of the ANA and on the board of directors and vice-president of the Southern Colorado Numismatic Association.

In a further consolidation move the ANA board of governors voted to incorporate the office of public relations into the editorial offices of The Numismatist, the official journal of the association, already established here in the headquarters city of Colorado Springs.

Regional Representation Study Committee Named

At the recent Colorado Springs board of governors meeting, the board voted to increase its size to eleven members, starting with the 1969 election. Matt H. Rothert, president of the A.N.A., has appointed a blue-ribbon panel to study and to recommend to the board the feasibility of the distribution and/or the election of the board of governors on a district basis. Every possibility, every factor will be carefully considered including an equitable way to proportion the representation.

Asked to serve on this committee were: Admiral O. H. Dodson, former A.N.A. president; Herbert M. Bergen, A.N.A. second vice-president; Arthur Sipe, A.N.A. first vice-president; Chester L. Krause, publisher, Numismatic News, Coins Magazine; Dick Hyde, Sr., publisher, Western Coin Collector; Mrs. Margo Russell, editor, Coin World; R. S. Yeoman, Whitman Publishing Co.; and John J. Pittman, A.N.A. governor. This committee is to report at the 1967 national convention in Miami in August.

Other board actions can be found reported by president Matt H. Rothert in his column, the President's Message, page 410.

Coins of Old On Stamps of New

Postage stamps have been described as miniature billboards advertising a nation's heritage for the whole world to see. Cyprus, an island nation in the north-eastern corner of the Mediterranean, has a history that dates back to the sixth millennium B.C. when it developed a highly advanced neolithic civilization culminating to the end of the second millennium B.C. with the arrival of the first Greek colonists who gave to it its Greek character which its inhabitants have preserved through the ages.

Cyprus, which became independent in 1960, has recently issued a new definitive series of postage stamps, linking its ancient Greek heritage with today. It would be only natural therefore that some of these postage designs portray ancient coins. And so it is.

With the aid of Admiral O. H. Dodson (USN Ret.), director of the Classical and European Culture Museum of the University of Illinois, the two stamps issues portraying ancient coins are attributed.

The head of Herakles on a coin of Cyprus shows the Greek influence. Admiral Dodson noted that Alexander established many mints including one at Amathos in Cyprus which struck silver tetradrachms after 325 B.C. The reverse of these coins usually carried a ship's prow, whereas the reverse of the coin on the 50 mils stamp shows a bow.

School Days Again

The fourth consecutive year of numismatic classes will be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., under the auspices of the Massachusetts Department of Education, University Extension Division.

The classes will start on Wednesday, March 15, 1967, and the time schedule is 7:00-9:00 p.m., for eight weeks.

Among the subjects to be covered by instructor James Stone, well known Starting a coin collection; 2—What to collect; 3—Cataloging your collection; 4—Preserving your collection; 5—Detection of counterfeits; and 6—Grading, along with other subjects.

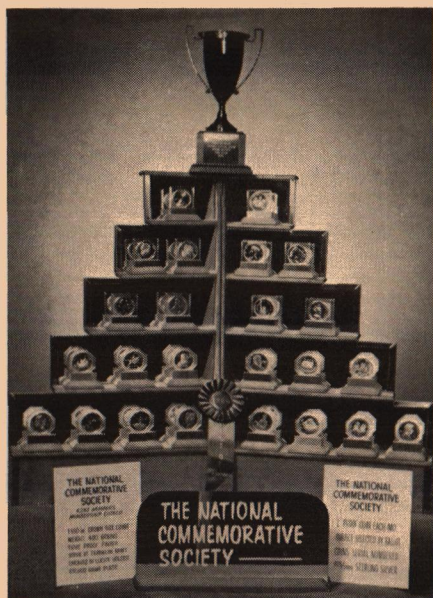

These classes have been extremely successful and students from various parts of New England have attended.

Stone, who will be instructing the classes for the first time, has been a guest lecturer in previous sessions. He is the vice-president of the Collectors Club of Boston, past president of the Norfolk County, Massachusetts, Coin Club, and a member of ANA and CNA as well as other coin organizations. He is associated with one of New England's largest banking institutions, has competed in nationwide debating contests, and is an avid collector.

Maurice Gould, the founder of the class, now located in Van Nuys, California, will serve as an advisor, along with James Ford Clapp, Jr., a specialist in ancient coins, and one of New England's best known numismatists.

Cash Prize Awarded

The National Commemorative Society has recently awarded a $250 cash prize and a gold-plated trophy to Buddy Ammar of Logan, W. V., for his imaginative display of NCS medals, judged the best NCS display exhibited during the fourth quarter of 1966.

Mr. Ammar's pyramid shaped exhibit was displayed at the Huntington, W. V., Coin Club show and at the Logan County Coin Show in Logan, W. V., where it took "Best of Show" honors.

GNC Goes National

On February 1, the common stock of General Numismatics Corporation, whose principal business is the operation of The Franklin Mint, became the first stock of a private minting company to be listed on a national securities exchange. The exchange is the National Stock Exchange, headquartered in New York City.

In attendance to watch the "GNC" symbol make its debut on the ticker tape were board chairman Gilroy Roberts, Joseph M. Segel, president and Norman Klauder, treasurer.

GNC stock opened at $12.00 per share, during the course of the first trading day, the stock advanced steadily. A total of 2000 shares were traded from 11:30 a.m., when the trading commenced, until the closing bell at 3:30 p.m. It closed at $13.10. On the second trading day, February 2, it opened at $13.50. A total of 2800 shares were traded on the second day and the closing price rose to $14.40.

For the National Stock Exchange, which is the smallest of the three national securities exchanges, GNC is likely to become one of its most actively traded stocks. NSE president Edward T. McCormick, who was previously president of the American Stock Exchange, stated, "GNC stock introduces a new industry to exchange trading in the United States. As the newest securities exchange, we are particularly delighted to add this stock to our trading roster."

Rising to the occasion, The Franklin Mint announced that it was striking a special coin-medal to commemorate this historic event, and that one would be sent to each shareholder of record as of February 1, 1967. There are approximately 240,000 shares of the company's common stock in the hands of more than 2000 shareholders, many of whom are coin collectors.

General Numismatics Corporation and The Franklin Mint were founded in 1964 by Gilroy Roberts and Joseph M. Segel. Roberts was then chief engraver of the U. S. Mint and is considered by those in the know to be one of the best coin and medal designers of our time. His Kennedy portrait on the half dollar helped to establish this reputation. Segel was previously a publishing executive, who had a vision and worked to make it come true.

For the Junior

Literary Award

When the Young Numismatic Committee of the ANA met in Chicago last year, one of the main accomplishments was the laying of the ground work for the establishment of a literary award for the Junior Numismatist of the ANA.

This ground work is now completed and a trophy fund has been established by the committee. Now, the only thing to do is await some entries.

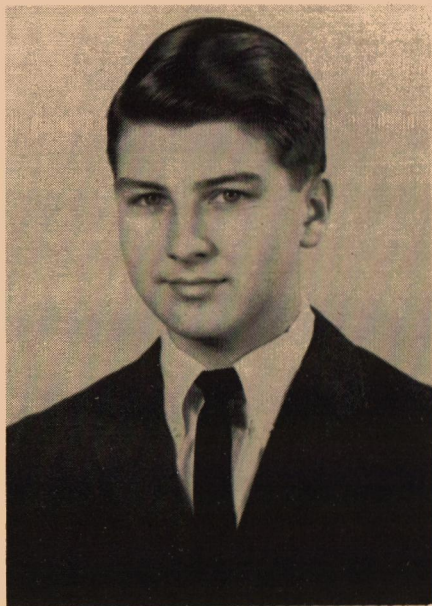

Here is how you go about entering.

All junior members of the American Numismatic Association, with the exception of those who are members of the Young Numismatists Committee, are eligible to enter. Entries can either be published work or work prepared and presented before a coin club or any other group. All should be the original work of the junior.

The topic for this numismatic paper can cover any subject dealing with the hobby of numismatics, including a school paper. Entries need not be typed, they may be written in a legible hand. All entries should be postmarked no later than midnight, June 30, 1967.

Entries will be judged by three members of the committee and awards will be made at the junior meeting in Miami in August. Mail all material to co-chairman of the Young Numismatists of ANA, Mrs. Hazel Lindstrom, 710 West 26th Ave., Pine Bluff, Arkansas 71601.

Meet Glenn Keating, Jr.

Glenn Keating, Jr., Pine Bluff, Arkansas, has been selected as the most outstanding young numismatist of Arkansas. The selection was made at the recent state convention of the Arkansas Numismatic Society in Hot Springs. Glenn is secretary of the Pine Bluff Junior Coin Club, secretary of the Arkansas Junior Coin Club and junior A.N.A. representative for his local club. This award is given annually by the club sponsor, Mrs. Hazel Lindstrom, for outstanding leadership and ability, contributing to the promotion of numismatics by participation in National Coin Week and by keeping the image of numismatics at its peak in the state association.

Candidates, Sharpen Your Pencils!

A.N.A. Issues Call For Nominations Biographical Coverage Is Doubled

Colorado Springs, Colo. — The bianual call for nominations of officers to govern the A.N.A. has been sent forth to the membership. An election for board of governors is held every two years in accordance with the bylaws of the ANA. This board consists of nine governors including a president, first vice-president and second vice-president. Those elected will be installed at the 1967 national convention in Miami.

Nomination of qualified candidates may be made in writing by any member, club or individual, in good standing, and must be sent to the office of the executive director on or before May 25, 1967, when nominations will close.

The names of the candidates who have agreed in writing to accept, if elected, the offices for which they were nominated will be published in The Numismatist, the official publication of the ANA. A recent board of governors meeting, held in Colorado Springs in mid-February, amended the bylaws of the organization to extend the biographical coverage from 100 to 200 words in order to better record a candidate's services to the association and to numismatics in general.

The bylaws also provide that the election ballots cast shall be tabulated by an independent auditing firm. This year the CPA firm of Main Lafrentz and Company of Denver, Colorado, has been selected. Each member entitled to vote will receive a ballot listing the nominees for the various offices and ballots must be returned to the accounting firm on or before July 24, 1967.

Candidates have been urged to submit their biographies early so that they may be featured in the June issue of The Numismatist. The deadline for that edition is April 25.

Numismatic Vignette

■ "I solemnly declare . . . that this convention, and all previous conventions, and those to be held in the future are governed by a clique . . . and to those members who are not satisfied with the doings of the A.N.A., I invite them to disagree with us in policy if they have a better one . . ." Excerpt from comments by Charles Markus upon assuming the presidency of A.N.A. forty years ago next August. Keep in mind that 75 members at an annual convention in those days was considered good attendance, and that practically all of a year's business was transacted at the convention. Today members are not as aware of the business and management activities of their Association. — GLENN S.

The American Numismatic Association

The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has about 27,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $11.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $6.00. Nonmember subscriptions, $7.50 per year or three years for $20.00. Single copy 75¢. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Director, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 128 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING US to start our THIRTY-FIFTH YEAR AS PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS. After all, it is you, the collector, who keeps us in business. Little did we realize in 1928 when A. M. Kagin started collecting, that instead of "playing with coins" part time, R. O. Hollinbeck (founder) would allow him to "play full time" starting in 1933. We still enjoy "playing with coins" and have the additional enjoyment of helping others "play with coins."

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

For a number of years our anniversary message has appeared about this time each year. Each year our many friends (collectors and dealers) have wished us a happy anniversary. May we take this occasion to publicly acknowledge these many felicitations, and thank those who have extended them.

A. M. (Arthur) & Paul Kagin

RARE HAWAIIAN COINS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

Low mintage. Listed page 248 of the Red Book. Many melted, especially dollars of which over 400,000 were melted, according to the records at San Francisco. Many additional coins of each denomination were lost to the sea during a revolt by the people against the government in 1893. Few were left. In fact — during my visit to Hawaii I searched the Islands to locate Hawaiian coins and discovered to my amazement that few people living on the Islands even knew that these coins existed. Most inhabitants were amazed when I showed them coins struck by the U. S. Mint for circulation in Hawaii. They are not only no longer in circulation, but few Hawaiians realize that at one time they had their own coinage. Check your Red Book — Excellent investment potential per dollar invested.

Ageless.

The coins and State Medals of Israel have attained a leading position among numismatists throughout the world. They are masterfully designed by Israel's foremost artists, who derive both their inspiration and their motifs from the coins of ancient Israel. Thus a new nation reflects through numismatics its history, progress and aspirations, while at the same time furnishing collectors with numismatic specimens that are unique in their blend of ageless symbols and modern design.

U. S. SILVER DOLLARS — B.U. CONDITION

A check of the offerings of Silver Dollars in the various publications will show a wide variance in prices. We have seen many of the coins of others, and we KNOW that the collector gets only what he pays for. During our many years of dealing in Silver Dollars in Brilliant Uncirculated condition, we find that there is indeed a very wide disparity in the condition of the coins sold in this category. In our desire to satisfy the widest range of collectors, we have decided to offer 2 types of B.U. Coins.

Our AVERAGE B.U. is a coin that has the usual bag marks and where the (*) is indicated, the coin is generally weak struck and not fully brilliant.

The SELECT B.U. Coin is generally well struck with a minimum of bag marks, with full NATURAL LUSTER.

Our lower priced category is generally in line with the offerings of most other dealers — both in quality and price. The Select B.U. coin is quite competitive with the few dealers who offer a similar quality coin. Every collector now has the opportunity of selecting the quality of coin he wishes to put into his collection.

COINS FROM COMMONWEALTH

CHOICE COLONIALS

We have gone through our stock of colonial coins and have selected some of the choicest pieces for offering this month. Those who specialize in this series should find something of interest, for any of the items listed below would make exceptionally nice show pieces. Prices are modest for the type of material offered, and we believe that this is a golden opportunity for the serious specialist to up-grade his collection. Order with confidence—any item which is not completely satisfactory may be returned without explanation for a full refund.

ROSA AMERICANA Penny, 1722, UTILE DULCI—a nice chocolate brown uncirculated specimen with just the slightest rubbing on the high points on the reverse . . .	115.00
BAR CENT (1785)—an extremely fine specimen, with letter of authentication from Walter Breen in which he describes it as "one of the half dozen finest in collector's hands." This might be debatable, but the coin is nevertheless exceptionally nice. . .	375.00
VIRGINIA Halfpenny, 1773, Period after Georgius, N 25-M, an uncirculated beauty, with considerable mint red	55.00
KENTUCKY TOKEN, plain edge—extremely fine and pleasing, with just the slightest wear on OUR CAUSE	40.00
KENTUCKY TOKEN, lettered edge—scarcer than the plain edge, we have a choice uncirculated piece for just	75.00
FRANKLIN PRESS Cent, 1794—choice reddish-brown uncirculated beauty	75.00
RHODE ISLAND SHIP TOKEN, Betts 562—about extremely fine, with the only noticeable wear on the portholes, pleasing surfaces and color, none of the roughness or pitting so often found—a scarce coin	165.00
UNITY STATES, 1783, Baker 1—extremely fine and choice, one of the loveliest we have seen. Difficult to obtain in this condition	45.00
SHIP HALFPENNY, 1793, Baker 18—about uncirculated, faint traces of red, with characteristic planchet defect on reverse. Uncommon grade	120.00
GRATE CENT, 1795, large buttons, Baker 29—reddish-brown uncirculated, very nice	75.00

MATCHED SET

1791 Washington Large and Small Eagle

This magnificent pair of uncirculated beauties, sold as set in a custom plastic holder, would be hard to equal. The small eagle is particularly sharp and is one of the nicest we have seen. A rare opportunity for an exhibitor—don't delay on this one.

The set just $225.00

CHOICE EARLY CROWNS

Auction results and fixed price lists begin to make it appear that the seemingly irreversible 15-year upward trend in prices of good early crowns may be levelling out or even gently settling. However, it's too long to say from these day to day reports whether this is a long pause, a hiccup, or a real change.

I say this in passing because my own interest and faith in choice earlier crowns — European and colonial through the Napoleonic period and Latin American up to about 1850 — continue unabated. Tactical waverings occur, but the true long term outlook seems to me to stay about as it has been.

The point is that, come hell or high water, I for one am as happy as ever to buy choice individual crowns, interesting groups or — preferably — entire collections. Price of course IS an object but, as collectors who know me have learned, I'm not an extremist in either direction. And as every prudent seller knows or learns, an informed buyer is the man who serves him best in the long run.

If you're not inclined to sell just now you'll still likely find my monthly fixed price lists of interest. They offer choice crowns and scarce minor coins at sober prices, and they contribute more than their share to establishing the true contemporary market.

NEW ZEALAND 1967 SOUVENIR COINS

New Zealand changes to decimal coinage on July 10, 1967. The New Zealand Treasury will accept orders from February 1, 1967, for souvenir sets of the first issue of decimal coins, dated 1967.

There will be two types of set:

STANDARD SPECIMEN (50,000 sets)

Struck from polished blanks with specially prepared dies. The coins are removed from the presses by gloved hands and inspected individually.

UNCIRCULATED (250,000 sets)

These will be above average quality due to sealing at the Mint. Each set will include seven coins — one, two, five, ten, 20 and 50 cent circulating coins and a commemorative dollar. The coins will be sealed in clear partitioned envelopes at the Royal Mint and mounted in a descriptive folder.

UNCIRCULATED DOLLAR PIECES (200,000)

These will be sold separately and will be in clear solid plastic cases, with a Royal Blue surround, suitably engraved in silver.

Prices are:	US	Can
Specimen sets	10.00	10.80
Uncirculated sets	4.50	4.85
Dollar Pieces	2.00	2.15
Remittance should be by bank draft made payable to "The Treasury."

Why Keep Coins in a Plastic Holder?

Obviously for the superb eye appeal they present, but more important to preserve your coins' value. A CAPITAL holder prevents fingerprints, scratches and will keep so called black "Carbon Spots" from destroying the coin. These spots may be formed by moisture from the mouth, a sneeze or just someone talking animatedly. The acidity present has its effects. May we suggest wiping the coins with a very soft chamomis before placing them in a holder. A CAPITAL HOLDER OF COURSE!

20th CENTURY TYPE COINS HOLDER No. 460

Only 8 x 10 in size with spaces for 24 coins. (This includes the clad coins). Available in black, white, blue, green or red.

TO Owners of attributed Newcomb Large Cents 1816 - 1857:

I am preparing a revised Rarity schedule, and listing varieties not in Newcomb. I will appreciate a list of the varieties, with grade, you own. Do not include coins purchased from me, they are already counted. If you have any unlisted varieties I will appreciate the detailed description using Newcomb's format for that year.

My revised 'Large Cent Addenda' LC167A of February 1967 on request. It lists types by Sheldon and Newcomb numbers, preliminary Newcomb rarity schedule, and descriptions of unlisted Newcomb varieties.

To collectors of 1793 - 1857 Large Cents by dates, types or die varieties - I will be pleased to quote for your Want List.

I will trade any coins in stock in OTHER U. S. Series for Large Cents. Ask for my listing of 'Availables.'

If you wish to receive my monthly price lists on U. S. and World coins, paper and tokens, just ask.
